

Prof. Zoltán Szabolcs MD, PhD, MSc

Education:

Semmelweis University Budapest, Faculty of Medicine: 1971 - 1977. Summa cum laude

Board certifications:

General surgery -1981, vascular surgery -1984, cardiac surgery -1986

Surgical trainings:

Győr County Hospital (1977-82), Leeds General Infirmary (1986-88), Vascular Surgery Dept of Semmelweis Univ (1982-84), Cardiac Surgery Dept of Semmelweis Univ 1984-86, 1988-

Scientific degree:

PhD - 1993; Thesis title: "Connection Points in the Surgical Treatment of the Coexisting arteriosclerotic cardiovascular diseases"

Habilitation:

Semmelweis University – 2009; Habilitation thesis : "Cardiac surgical aspects of the Marfan syndrome"

Second degree:

Health Services Management (MSc); Semmelweis University, Budapest: 1996-1998

Current positions:

Professor in cardiac surgery and head of the Hungarian Heart Transplant program of the Semmelweis University,.

Vice-director of the Heart and Vascular Centre of the Semmelweis University, Budapest, President of the Hungarian Marfan Foundation

Main interest on the field of cardiac surgery:

Heart transplantation, surgery of the aorta especially at the genetically triggered diseases of the ascending aorta

Contacts and websites

phone:00-36-30-9624-273,

e-mail: sziv.szabolcs@gmail.com

www.szabolcszoltan.hu

www.marfan.hu